Document Review

The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. Inline annotations target specific words in this paragraph by matching the rendered text directly.

Accessibility compliance requires all non-text content to have text alternatives. Verify alt text during the audit phase before sign-off.

See the project documentation for the full conformance checklist and the latest review guidelines.

How It Works

Each annotation specifies a substring match. The flow engine locates that text within the laid-out runs and emits the annotation at the exact rendered position. If a match wraps across lines, one rectangle is emitted per line.

Precise Text Annotations

The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. This demonstrates how to annotate specific text rang cessibility compliance requires all non-text content to have text alternatives. Verify during the aud

All findings must be documented with clear reproduction steps and environment details for the deve

Priority: HighDue: May 15

Tip: Use the low-level API when you need pixel-perfect annotation placement. The template system is ideal for document structure; precise highlight